

The background image shows a hand-operated water pump in a rural setting. A young child is in the foreground, looking towards the pump. A woman is standing behind the child, and another person is partially visible on the left. The pump is a manual device with a long handle and a spout that is pouring water into a large, shallow concrete basin. The scene is outdoors with trees and foliage in the background. The image is framed by a red triangle on the top left and a teal triangle on the top right.
